Halloween Party.

Miss Glorema Elkin charmingly entertained with a Halloween party on Tuesday night at her pretty home on South Main street.

The decorations were suggestive of the occasion, great jack-o-lanterns being extensively used, while the piano and mantels were artistically draped in crepe paper printed in pumpkin heads.

The dining room was beautifully decorated, great bouquets in exquisite vases being placed at each end of the table. Long lines of pop corn were strung from the handsome chandelier, from which were hung tiny pumpkin heads.

A menu consisting of chicken salad, fruit salad, peanut sandwiches, beaten biscuits, olives, pickles, pumpkin pie, hot chocolate and fruits was served.

All kinds of typical Halloween games were played, and the evening was greatly enjoyed by the young maskers.

RED CROSS FOUNDER

Henri Dunant, Who Was Responsible For World Movement Passes Away.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 2.—Henri Dunant, founder of the International Red Cross Society, died at Heiden a health resort.

Henri Dunant was of Swiss birth and lived in Geneva. At the battle of Solferino, June 24, 1859 he witnessed needless suffering and loss of life resulting from a day's neglect to care for the wounded. Realizing that such conditions need not exist, he conceived the idea of pledging the nations of the earth to regard and protect as neutral all sick and wounded combatants and all persons giving them succor. He elaborated his ideas and through co-operation of the Swiss Federal Council brought about the international conference at Geneva in October 1863, at which sixteen governments were represented. This was followed by Geneva convention of August 8, 1864 which adopted nine articles of the agreement "for the amelioration of conditions in armies in the field." These articles were signed by twelve governments and the signatory of the powers have since reached forty.

Good Manners.

The power of manners is incessant—an element as unchangeable as fire. The nobility cannot in any country be disguised and no more in a republic or a democracy than in a kingdom. No man can resist their influence. There are certain manners which are learned in good society, of that force that, if a person have them, he or she must be considered, and is everywhere welcomed, though without beauty or wealth or genius.—Emerson

Models Disapproved.
"You shouldn't quarrel with your wife about her desire for handsome clothes," said the near relative.
"I don't object to her having handsome clothes," replied Mr. Sirius Barker. "All I tell her is that if she ever succeeds in really looking like those fashion pictures she tries to copy she will come pretty near breaking up her home."

His Best Order.
It had been a dull season, and the two young travelling salesmen were comparing notes. "I had just five good orders in the last month," said one. "You beat me, anyway," said his friend. "I got only three orders, and the third one was from the firm telling me to come home."—Youth's Companion.
